SYNDICATE DOES NOT RELINQUISH RAILROAD PLANS

Kuhn, Loeb & Company Believed to be Acting For it in Deal.

New Transcontinental Line is Planned.

WITH ENGLISH PEOPLE'S MONEY

New York, July 29.—That the Pearson syndicate was securing immense blocks of stock in American railroads to organize a new transcontinental system and was not squeezed out and forced to sell to Kuhn, Loeb & company, was stated by well informed financiers today. They say the syndicate is still existent and Kuhn, Loeb & company are merely identified with the Pearson syndicate to further the plan. Wall street believes Kuhn, Loeb & company have long been identified with a foreign syndicate in efforts to secure possession of railways needed for a transcontinental line. They bought heavily in Missouri Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Rock Island stocks.

Toward the afternoon selling became active with few buyers. Prices slumped all along the line.

Earlier reports said:

Dr. F. D. Pearson and his British associates acquired the stock in 1909 and in 1910, with a dream of a vast transcontinental system. The plan must be abandoned, temporarily at least, but the opinion is divided as to whether it will be revived. One member of the syndicate said this afternoon: "We have no plans for a new transcontinental system, and the purchase does not embrace the control of any of the properties."

On the other hand another banker concerned said the Pearson project would be shelved only for the present. While the primary object of taking over the holdings, he said, was to save the awkward market situation, yet he was of the opinion that Kuhn, Loeb and Co., and their friends, including some of the most important bankers; interests of Germany, would seek to carry out the idea too big for the Pearson group to swing.

The American members of the syndicate acting with Kuhn, Loeb & Co., include the First National bank, a Morgan institution; but Morgan the banking house itself, it is declared, is not a party to the syndicate. It is believed that the Kuhn-Loeb syndicate will sell to J. P. Morgan & Co. its Lehigh holdings, so the road will remain in the hands of the Drexel-Morgan interests, where it has been.

There is apparently no disposition to dispense with Pearson or his associates, and they probably will remain directors of the various roads. The block of Rock Island transferred carries the control of that road.

Westinghouse Dumped.

New York, July 29.—George Westinghouse was forced from the presidency of the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing company at a meeting of the board of directors today. Edwin F. Atkins, of Atkins & company, of Boston, was chosen to succeed Westinghouse temporarily. Kuhn, Loeb & company now dominate the firm.

Dangerously Wounded.

Bardwell, Ky., July 29.—Elmus Cravens, colored, living near Milburn was shot by an officer's posse and dangerously wounded. He had been giving his neighbors trouble for months. Magistrate Mott made an attempt to arrest him and he barricaded himself in his house and declared he would die before he surrendered. The posse was summoned and in the effort to arrest Cravens there was a fight, during which he was shot.

This Will Become Most Important Railroad Crossing on Ohio River, Possibly Excepting Cincinnati, O.

Two Trunk Lines Will Send Solid Trains From Chicago to Gulf—Another to Florida and the Lakes.

In the broken doses of information the daily press has been able to collect about the Burlington bridge proposition, the importance of this crossing of the Ohio river has not been clearly expressed; but the indications are now that this will be the most important, excepting only Cincinnati, and it probably will be of equal importance with that city, which has the Louisville & Nashville and the Queen & Crescent running south and a number of railroads radiating north, east and west; but not one running north and south through it. Louisville has only the L. & N. running south, and she is on the main line of no other system.

Paducah will have solid trains of the Burlington and Illinois Central running through from Chicago and St. Louis to New Orleans and Mobile on the Gulf, and solid trains of the L. & N. from St. Louis and Chicago to Nashville, Memphis, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Florida. The first impression was that the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis and the Burlington would enter into a traffic agreement by which they would use each other's lines; but the eventual purpose of each, it seems, is to connect over their own lines the Lakes and the western plains with the Gulf before the Panama canal is finished.

In addition to these through lines, the L. & N., which has built to Madisonville, has surveyed to Princeton and thence to Paducah, crossing Crittenden and Livingston counties, tapping an untouched farming section and opening up undeveloped deposits of coal, flour spar and lime stone.

Across the river, the L. & N. is preparing to build forty miles of track to connect Metropolis with the line from Evansville to St. Louis.

The Big Four and the C. E. & I. have surveyed the short distance necessary to link their lines in Illinois with the bridge and the Cotton Belt is said to be casting its eyes this way.

Plans in the South.

The Manufacturers' Record contains the following story, which indicates the operations of the Burlington in the south:

"The New Orleans Great Northern railroad and the Frisco system, according to a rumor from Covington, La., contemplate the construction of a bridge across Lake Pontchartrain, and thence to New Orleans. Connection would be made with the track of the New Orleans Terminal Co. The bridge would be about 11 1/2 miles long, but it would afford a short and direct route from Mandeville, Covington and other Louisiana points. The New Orleans Great Northern now enters New Orleans under a traffic arrangement with the New Orleans, Northeastern, or Queen & Crescent Route, while the advantage to be gained by the Frisco would be in the way of an additional entrance. The report, it appears, is in line with recent rumors that the New Orleans, Mobile & Chicago Railway, formerly the Mobile, Jackson & Kansas City road would unite with the other two lines and build a new line from Hattiesburg, Miss., to New Orleans, and would also construct the long connection."

Infant Mortality Due to Artificial Foods

Washington, July 29.—Hot weather as the cause of a big infant death toll is vindicated partly by Dr. Wiley, chief food expert of the department of agriculture today. He says the deaths are due largely to artificial foods. "Statistics show," he said, "that the high temperatures generally are accompanied by high infant mortality, but babies obliged to eat artificial food are most generally affected. The only safe food for infants is the milk of healthy mothers. The next best milk is of healthy cows properly modified. The general supply is apt to be very bad, especially

St. Petersburg, July 29.—The extent of the cholera epidemic is revealed in the figures made public today by the government sanitary commission. The stricken region now includes forty-two provinces and territories of European Russia, and since the outbreak of the disease last May there have been a total of 37,652 cases with 16,651 deaths.

Recently there has been a startling increase in the number of victims. During the week ending July 23 no less than 13,247 cases were reported and of these 5,979 terminated fatally.

KILLED HIMSELF IS RAWN VERDICT

JURY THINKS SUICIDE MORE PROBABLE THAN THEORY OF ACCIDENT.

Chicago, July 29.—A verdict was returned to the coroner's jury at 3:30 o'clock this morning that Ira G. Rawn killed himself. It was not determined whether it was suicide or whether his death was accidental. The jury was unable to determine, but the wound and type of revolver made the accidental theory less probable, the verdict says. Rawn's name was mentioned for the first time in the car repair graft investigation in the Illinois Central railroad. It is expected the names of other officials will be made known.

Lottie is charged with maintaining a disorderly house and her trial has been set for Monday morning.

CRIPPEN DOESN'T KNOW HE IS BEING WATCHED ON BOAT

Captain of Montrose Has Couple He Believes to be London Refugees

Police Eager to Arrest Upon Arrival.

WILL BE DEPORTED AT ONCE.

Montreal, July 29.—A wireless message from Captain Kendall, of the Montrose, says Crippen, with his moustache shaved, with Miss Leneve, is aboard. They do not know they are suspected. They have been allowed their liberty. The captain says he suspected Crippen when the boat left Antwerp. He has been watching them closely. He is familiar with Crippen's pictures and has no doubt of their identity.

The wireless message says: "I had my first suspicions after the Montrose had been out two days from Antwerp. I watched the couple closely and came to the conclusion the man was Crippen. He looked as a merchant. The girl is disguised as his son, a student. Crippen has been reading constantly. He is very nervous, and doesn't sleep well. Miss Leneve is gay at times, at other times she appears worried. She watches Crippen tearfully. I am sure the man is Crippen. I read fully of the case in England and saw pictures of both fugitives. There is no doubt of their identity."

The wireless also said the suspects registered as "Robinson and son." The man told passengers the boy was broken in health by overstudy. Frequent wireless messages were sent and received by the Montrose before it got out of touch with England. This seemed to worry the suspect greatly, but as there was no attempt at apprehension the fears lessened and both suspects mingled freely with other passengers. The man says he is worried over his son.

Waiting for Arrival.

Farther Point, Quebec, July 29.—The world-wide wireless hunt for Crippen and Miss Leneve centers here, at this little lighthouse village on the fog covered St. Lawrence. The vessel is picking her way through 30 miles of wide river, now fog covered. At midnight Saturday or early Sunday morning local officials, accompanied by Inspector Dew, will board the vessel here and arrest the couple. A pilot boat will take a pilot to the Laurentine this morning, bringing back Inspector Dew.

After the arrest the couple will be rushed to Quebec, arraigned and ordered deported to England as "undesirable aliens." Extradition thus will be circumvented and the couple will be bound back for England by August 4 on the steamer Royal George. Chief McCarthy, of the Quebec police, and other officials are laying plans for the arrest. He says he received a number of wires, cautioning exercise of the greatest care to prevent the couple eluding. The Montrose will not delay here, but precede on to Quebec, where the couple, if they really are Crippen and Miss Leneve, will be taken ashore.

Dew will not take a hand in the arrest. Under the Canadian law it must be made by Canadian police. McCarthy will read the warrants after Dew has identified them. Other officials will guard against escape or suicide. Few people live on Farther Point, but the place is crowded with tourists, newspaper men and curiosity seekers. Special permission was granted Dew to land the pilot boat. McCarthy decided not to allow newspaper men to board the pilot boat until the arrest is made, fearing the crowd trooping over the side would arouse the suspicions of the couple. Newspaper men have arranged with a former lighthouse keeper to take them out in an old schooner. They will board the Montrose after the arrest.

RURALS CAPTURE GEN. MINNET

Cuban Insurgent Surprised in Camp by Lieut. Carrillon's Guard.

Havana, July 29.—General Minnet, who two days ago started an uprising near El Caney, was surprised in camp today and captured by a detachment of the rural guard under Lieutenant Carrillo. One of Minnet's insurgents was killed, Minnet and two others were taken prisoners and the others fled. When Lieutenant Carrillo and his detachment came upon the insurgents returned the fire, but when the guard charged they took to flight, abandoning their arms. The band is being hotly pursued by the rurals. None of the guards was hurt.

Everet, July 29.—William John Lind, nominated yesterday for governor on the Democratic ticket, announced positively today that he would not accept the nomination.

Perfectly Absurd.

Denver, July 29.—"The charge that my friends raised $35,000 to bribe Democratic legislators to vote for me is pure rot. The first intimation I had was three weeks ago. James Keeley, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, asked me about the story. I told him I never heard of it before. It is absurd." This was the statement of Albert J. Hopkins, who is departing for Chicago today.

INCENDIARY FIRE SEQUEL TO CASE

FINE HAMS AND SHOULDERS WAY COUNTY STIRRED UP OVER PROSECUTION.

Murray, Ky., July 29. (Special.)—As a sequel to the charge of rape, made by Mrs. Julia Adams, of the Coldwater section of this county, against Perd Cloys, incendiaries burned the woman's house last night. It appears that Cloys had been living at Mrs. Adams' house and Monday night after a quarrel she said he pointed a revolver at her. During the hearing before County Judge Patterson, Count Attorney Erwin made a disparaging remark about the court, who wouldn't compel the woman to testify lest she "incriminate herself." The judge fined Mr. Erwin, which did not seem to change his opinion. Threats of some neighbors to make the parties move are associated with the incendiary fire last night.

FARMERS' UNION IN KENTUCKY IS GAINING GROUND

Reports to Annual Meeting at Central City Are Encouraging.

R. L. Barnett is Re-Elected Secretary.

GRAVES MAN FOR PRESIDENT.

President—Like Thomas, of Melber, Graves county.
Vice-President—Sam Jones, of Cunningham, Carlisle county.
Secretary-Treasurer—R. L. Barnett, of Paducah.
Conductor—G. M. Hazelwood, of Benze, Jackson county.
Chaplain—The Rev. T. H. McGee, of Heath, McCracken county.
Doorkeeper—E. T. Litsey, of Short Creek, Grayson county.
Directors—M. B. Tapp, of Keok; the Rev. Robert Johnson, of Valley Station; G. W. Lawson, of Irvington, and O. F. Hughes, of Leitchfield.

With the election of officers the third annual convention of the Kentucky Farmers' union, which was in session for three days, adjourned yesterday at Central City, and the delegates dispersed to their homes over the state. The convention was a success, and the reports showed that the Farmers' union is in splendid condition. Next year it is intended to make even better reports and plans were discussed for an enlargement of the scope of the work.

Weather conditions prevented the large attendance that was expected and it was impossible for all of the delegates to be present. In many vicinities of the state the recent heavy rains compelled the farmers to remain at home, while other members were unable to leave the farms and crops to attend the meeting. Despite this handicap the convention was successful, as plenty of business was handled with dispatch. Another disappointment was the illness of National President C. S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., and J. H. Patten, of Washington, a member of the national legislative committee. Both were on the program for addresses, but sent regrets owing to the fact that they were prevented from attending the convention. Mr. Patten was on the program to deliver an address on foreign immigration. He sent resolutions opposing the present methods of letting in foreign immigrants, and the resolutions were passed by acclamation.

Fourteen fraternal delegates from the Society of Equity of Muhlenburg county were present, and discussed the proposed amalgamation with the Farmers' union. The proposed merger is now in the hands of the national boards of each society.

When the election of officers was called the members wanted to advance R. L. Barnett from the position of secretary-treasurer, which he has held for two years, to the state presidency. However, Mr. Barnett thanked the members for their confidence in his ability, but declined the offer. Then the members unanimously elected him to his third term as state secretary-treasurer. Mr. Like Thomas, who has been a member of the state board, was elected president. Mr. Sam Jones, of Carlisle county, was elected vice-president. The election was characterized by the best of feeling, and officers well acquainted with the responsibilities and needs of the Union were placed at the helm.

Before the next convention, the date and location of which will be selected later by the state board, it is expected to extend the work. With this in view it is probable that the office of State Secretary-Treasurer Barnett will be removed to Louisville or some other city more centrally located. The duties of Mr. Barnett carry him into the work of organization, and frequent trips over the state. Paducah has been the headquarters of the Farmers' Union since it was established in Kentucky.

Counties in the Purchase were well represented at the convention. Those in the party who returned last night were: Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Barnett, M. B. Tapp, Miss Lillian Wilson, Sam Jones, W. D. Austin.

Fed Results in Death.

Logansport, Ind., July 29.—As a result of a long standing feud, Samuel A. Michaels, aged 50, living in this city, shot and instantly killed Levi C. Pippinger, aged 51, a tenant on the Michaels farm in Carroll county, just across the Cass county line. Michaels and Pippinger got into an argument about thrashing for its substitution for the present municipal system in Logansport. Michaels planned to make the change in the city at the coming spring election.

Washington, July 28.—Attorney-General Wickersham has decided that the $200,000 appropriation made by the last congress to raise the battleship Maine is available for any work that may be necessary in that connection. There was a question as to whether any of the money could be used for preliminary work, such as a survey.

Mr. Wickersham decided it was the intent of congress that the money be used for all purposes connected with raising the ship, even to the burial of the dead in Arlington National cemetery.

Absence of witnesses for the commonwealth resulted in a continuance of the conspiracy case against Ed Hannan, Albert Arts, Edward Talbot and Mart M. Coulson, plumbers in police court this morning. The case was reset for next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The defense was ready for trial this morning. Mr. Hannan has employed Attorney Berry and Grassham while Attorney R. T. Lightfoot will represent the others. A large crowd gathered in the court room this morning to hear the testimony. Sensational developments are anticipated. PANAMA LABOR CONDITIONS NOW

NO LONGER NECESSARY TO IMPORT HELP.

War Department Says Immigration Has Increased Thousand Per Cent.

HEALTH SITUATION IS BETTER.

Washington, July 29. (United Press.)—The digging of the Panama canal has reversed the condition regarding labor which confronted the United States at the outset of the big task. No longer, according to the reports from the Isthmus is it necessary to send agents abroad to contract for labor. Despite the great number needed for the work voluntary immigration from Greece, Italy, Costa Rica, Cuba, Colombia and Venezuela now is sufficient to supply all demand for the big force.

The volume of immigration in the case of the European laborers has increased nearly 1,000 per cent, and in the case of the West Indians, over 50 per cent, as compared with the first six months of 1909.

Nearly every vessel sailing from a foreign port brings an additional lot of laborers, and within the past few months immigration among the Greeks and Italians has been steadily increasing. As near as can be estimated about 50 per cent of the steerage passengers from Europe at the present time are Spaniards, while the remaining 50 per cent is more or less equally divided between Greek and Italians.

Formerly the stowaway class constituted quite a factor in the immigration movement and there is a case on record where a vessel arrived at Colon with 283 stowaways on board, including a number of women. At that time laborers were in demand on the canal works, and under the agreement with the Republic of Panama respecting the importation of labor, the stowaways were allowed to land without the requisite amount of cash, and a large number of them went to work on the canal. For some time past, however, stowaways have been returned to the countries from which they embarked, which has discouraged the practice to a great extent, and caused steamship officials to be more alert. Stowaways have been especially numerous on the islands of Barbados, stealing on deck unseen, or going on board on some fictitious errand and hiding themselves as the opportunity offered while the vessel lay at anchor on cargo.

With the present surpluse of European labor on the Isthmus the commission has been compelled to hold to the rule of filling vacancies in the labor ranks from the contract men, whenever contract men are without work.

KEPT HIS PROMISE

MURDERS RIVAL IN LOVE AFTER MANY YEARS.

Lee Stallards Shoots Harry Long In Presence of Wife and Child.

Evansville, Ind., July 29.—Harry Long, employed at the strawboard factory at Mt. Vernon, died at Gilbert's Sanitarium in this city at 9 o'clock this morning from wounds sustained last night at the hands of Lee Stallards. Several years ago Long wooed and won Stallards' sweetheart in Kentucky. The latter was lavied to the wedding, but he stayed away and, instead, he sent the following message to the groom: "I will kill you like a dog the first time I set eyes on you."

Long and his wife moved to Mt. Vernon, and now have several children. Stallards recently came from Kentucky to Indiana and secured employment near Mt. Vernon. Late last night Long and his wife were sitting in the swing in front of their Mt. Vernon home, and Mrs. Long was holding the baby in her lap. Stallards passed by and, seeing them, opened fire without saying a word. He shot three times, one shot striking Long in the leg and the other two in the abdomen.

George Bishops, a neighbor, sitting a few feet away, knocked Stallards down with a brick at the third shot and, wrenching his revolver from him, held him until an officer arrived and arrested him. Long was brought to Evansville on a special traction car, but all efforts to save his life were futile.

Stallards, when taken to jail, refused to talk about his crime.

HEAVY INCREASE IN BUSINESS

IS ANTICIPATED BY THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

Forty-seven New Men Put to Work in Car Department at the Local Shops.

PERSONALS OF RAILROAD MEN

Anticipating a heavy increase in freight business this fall, the Illinois Central railroad is preparing to place all its cars in good order. This morning there was an increase of 47 men to the car department of the local shops. The number of bad order cars has piled up, and it is the intention of the officials to place all of the rolling stock in good order so that the moving of coal this fall may be handled. The mines soon will open up with a full force, and the freight business with the railroads will increase tremendously. The additional men were employed this morning at the shops. In the car department several hundred men are employed.

More good word was learned by the employees when the railroad officials announced that the increase to all of the common laborers had been granted. The increase varies, but all of the laborers are included in the boost of wages. The increase effects the laborers over the entire system.

Owing to the high water the train was compelled to run slowly, while at Horse Branch a wait was necessary until the water subsided. Full Ticket Named By State Democratic Convention at Minneapolis—Disorder.

Minneapolis, July 29.—The Democratic storm signals which have been flying when the state Democratic convention met were torn to shreds by the tempest of feeling which let loose over the nomination of John Lind for governor, and the attempt to introduce a direct resolution in the party platform favoring county option.

For more than three hours, up to the very minute when the motion to adjourn was carried, there was no let up to the disorder, except for a few moments in which Chairman Michael Daly made himself heard after terrific pounding with a piece of two-by-four scuffling, which he used as a gavel.

The ticket named is as follows: For Governor—John Lind, of Minneapolis.

For Lieutenant Governor—M. C. Tift, of Long Prairie.

For Auditor—T. J. Meaghan, of Albert Lea.

For Attorney General—J. M. Freeman, of Ilwaco.

For Secretary of State—Fred W. Johnson, of New Ulm.

For Clerk of Supreme Court—Fred E. Wheaton, of Minneapolis.

For Treasurer—Charles F. Lader, of St. Cloud.

For Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—James C. Tracey, of Rochester.

For Justices of the Supreme Court—J. O'Brien, St. Paul; A. H. Snow, Winona; Philip E. Brown, Laverne; Calvin L. Brown, Morris.

The entire delegation was a unit in declaring John Lind one of the best Democrats in Minnesota. They divided in two factions. One declared that Lind must be nominated despite his repeated refusal to be a candidate, the other declared that Lind's wishes should be heeded.

The latter faction argued, shook fists, while those who were bent on nominating Lind howled, hissed and blocked the proceedings until by sheer force of noise and enthusiasm they secured the nomination, which finally made unanimous.

The anti-county optionists were in the saddle in the committee on resolutions. The committee heard resolutions offered by the optionists and voted them down, and inserted a plank declaring for the initiative and referendum, which the committee declared would answer the same purpose.

The platform attacks Taft for not using "tremendous forces of his high office to force the recalcitrant congressional majority to do its duty of tariff reform."

It condemns the retention of Ballinger in the cabinet; deplored the discharge of Pinchot "as a national crime;" commends the Minnesota Republican insurgents in congress for their vote on the Payne-Aldrich bill; demands the direct election of senators; strongly urges the re-election of Congressman Hammond.

Mr. Hammond began by deploring the death and extolling the life of the late Governor John A. Johnson. He scathingly denounced the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, mentioning specifically the lead and wool schedules and pronounced the tariff commission a mock political subterfuge, a body purposely created without power of action. He also devoted considerable attention to a definition of Cannonism.

County option and other local issues were not mentioned. He said in part:

"The people of this country have time and again decided by substantial majorities that the present method of protecting the domestic manufacturer and producer shall be maintained and while many question the wisdom of this kind of indiscreet taxation and the righteousness of imposing burdens upon the many for the benefit of a lesser number, the questions have become whether academic and the abolishment of the system is not seriously contemplated.

"There is a widespread opposition, however, to excessive rates, making the burdens upon the consumer greater than they should be. For illustration: The duty of one and one-half cents per pound on pig lead makes the rate $30 per ton on the former and $42.50 per ton on the latter. The total cost of producing pig lead from the ore is from $6 to $10 per ton, say on the average $8, on account of the lower wage scale he has to pay. Then the difference between the $7, the cost of production here, and the cost of production in the country from which the import comes ought to be the amount added to the $30 to fix the rates on pig lead. It could not exceed $8 even if the foreign producer paid nothing for the work. But the tariff charge is $12.50. This is one of the excessive rates to be found in the present tariff law.

"Because of such excessive rates and such inequality, the demand for a revision and rearrangement of the Immediately Benefited by Poslam, Which Soothes, Cools and Heals.

Mothers and those having the care of infants and young children which are chafed and irritated by skin eruptions and rashes will appreciate the cooling, soothing and healing properties of poslam, particularly during the heated term, when these disorders are the principal cause of fretting and ill humor. Poslam contains nothing which can in any way injure the most delicate skin and may unhesitatingly be used in all cases. "My little boy had eczema on his head in the most dreadful form for three summers. We spent dollars on various medicines to no effect. After trying sample of poslam I saw an improvement, and in a short while his head was entirely healed," writes Mrs. W. E. Hunt, Kingstree, S. C.

In all skin troubles poslam produces immediately noticeable results, stopping all itching and rapidly restoring the skin to normal condition.

A special 50-cent package of poslam is prepared for minor uses and this, as well as the regular $2 jar, is on sale by all druggists, particularly by Gilbert's drug store and R. W. Walker & Co.

But no one is asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining a sample package, which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

tariff schedules has come from the entire country and in the last election both prominent political parties in their platforms promised the people that following the election there should be a genuine revision of them. Fearing the indignation of a people aroused by the repudiation of its promises to them, the Republican organization sought to allay the rising storm of wrath by providing for the so-called tariff commission. The so-called commission has the power to act. It has the power to study rates, but not to change them. It has the power to discover defects but not to remedy them. But it is said to be a step in the right direction. It is not even that. If the board would make a fair and impartial and careful investigation of the tariff rates and tariff conditions and submit its report to the president and through him to congress and the people, showing conditions and stating facts relevant to the matter, the information would be of credit some time. But in order that to be made clear that a fair investigation preceded it and by men unprejudiced by preconceived notions of personal interests.

"Inasmuch as there has been no revision of the tariff that will square with the promises made to the people of this country during the last campaign and which, by their votes, the electors directed should be done, it is now the duty of congress to revise it in accordance with the mandates of the people; removing as far as possible the inequalities in rates and giving consideration to the consuming public by substantially cutting down the excessive charges contained in the present law. If, in connection with such revision it seems best to establish a tariff board, whether that commission or board be empowered to change rates or simply to gather information it should be a non-partisan body and its reports should be made to congress so that all may know the results of the investigations and so that the results may go to the reading and thinking people of the country, uncensored, unabridged and unamended and not changed or held back because of political necessities."

An oculist can do nothing for a man who is blind to his own interests.

MAKE A PLEA FOR GOOD ROADS

COMPARES APPROPRIATIONS WITH THOSE FOR RIVERS.

Notwithstanding Facts Hundreds of Millions Have Been Expended On Mississippi.

MEAN MILLIONS TO FARMERS.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 29.—The third annual convention of the National Good Roads congress was opened here today to continue through Saturday. Congressman William Sulzer became presiding officer. B. F. Yoakum was the principal speaker.

He said in part: Government statistics tell us that it costs our farmers 15 cents more to haul one ton one mile in this country than it costs in European countries. The products of the farms of the United States last year amounted to approximately 250,000,000 tons. The government shows the average haul of a ton was nine miles. The difference of 15 cents a ton per mile represents an additional cost of $1.35 a ton for an average haul of nine miles.

Estimating that two-thirds of the agricultural products of last year were hauled away from the farms, there would have been a saving to the American farmers of $225,000,000 if our roads had been up to the standard of European roads, not including their back haul of supplies from the stations to the farms. They would also have saved large sums in the cost of replacing and repairing harness, wagons, etc., and in the investment and care of extra draught stock.

The only way to get good roads is to fight for them. Your organization can do its work most effectively by keeping before the people in as many ways as possible the importance of making money by making better roads. It is not a sentimental proposition, but purely a business one.

There has been expended upon the Mississippi river, including surveys, within the last 10 years, $225,000,000 to put that public water highway in condition for handling products of the farm and commerce tributary to it. The last statistics available show that in 1906 there were 1,545,000 tons less transported on this river than in 1889. This $225,000,000 was expended between St. Louis and New Orleans, with the states of Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana on the western boundary, and the states of Illinois, Tennessee and Mississippi on the eastern.

The farmers of these states which border directly upon the Mississippi river, to say nothing of those of the remaining forty states, have received no benefit from this vast sum wastefully expended by the government. On the contrary, the farmers are paying as much for broken harness, broken wagons, with as much lost time, hauling one-half a load to a team, as they were before this $225,000,000 was expended.

There has been no systematic plan for the improvement of the Mississippi river. Therefore this great waste of money has been of no benefit to the transportation of commerce or the development of agriculture. The same amount of money expended in good road making would have yielded tremendous returns to the people.

It is the duty of every citizen of the United States to aid the farmer in every way consistent with business principles to market his products to the best advantage, and in this connection no one factor is of more economic importance than the reduction of the cost of transportation between the farm and the railroad station.

Daily Thought.

'Ths heaven alone that is given away;
'Ths only God may be had for the asking.
—James Russell Lowell.

The greatest misfortune is to be misunderstood.

A Burbank deciple treats trees by methods of materia medica. He dosed them with calomel and made them leaf. Don't blame them.

No wonder eastern society girls have been eloping with the chauf-eurs. The music hall dancers are getting all the dukes.

This isn't exactly the psychological moment for dramatic effect to spring that story about the hardship by reason of ice and snow endured in taking the Alaskan census.

San Francisco police say that premature publication of the fact that Joseph Wendling, the Louisville child murderer, was surrounded, prevented his capture. Another big fish that got away.

According to Bryan's way of looking at it, he saw his party going down in a flood of water and he threw out a plank to it. If the party refused to get on the plank he has done his duty.

Urey Woodson says the next house will be Democratic or insurgent, "it means the same thing." Urey will find out whether it does when it comes to the distribution of federal patronage.

Every philosopher should have a trade. The greatest glory of divinity is creation. Man's highest emulation is the transforming of unformed material into useful articles, the invention of valuable devices or the production of wealth from the elements of the soil, the air and the water. The dignity of labor is inherent in its service. Its reward is a visible product, its profit gain, that represents no other man's loss, but the world's benefit; the cost of its production is compensated by increased strength of mind, heart and body. In the joy of the honest craftsman there is no alloy of sharp practice, of consciousness of unfair advantage, of loss of self-respect. If he loses the latter, it is not the fault of his occupation, but of himself.

THE PERFECT ANGLER.

Governor Harmon's picture, sitting in a boat with a fishing rod in his hand, is appearing in the newspaper plate service. Oh, he's the logical successor to Grover Cleveland, all right! And how much more suggestive the pose of the patient angler with his barbed hook carefully concealed by alluring bait, than the apostle of protest with his meshes of "thou shalt not" dragging the mud banks for such ill-formed amphibious creatures as are driven shoreward! The fisherman hides his time and chooses his bait with reference to the particular fish that inhabit a particular pool. He gathers to him the voters—beg pardon, the fish—that are seeking something; he gets

WHAT CORN WILL BUY

The real value of any article is its exchange value. The real worth of farm products is measured by their value when compared with the value of articles which the farmer desires to purchase. No compilation of retail prices for 1910 and 1896 are available, but the retail price of any commodity follows in a general way, the wholesale price. Following is the value of 10 bushels of corn in March, 1910, and in March, 1896, when measured by the wholesale prices of the following staple articles:

them on his hook one by one, a slow process, but he holds them when he gets them. The other bears the croaking of the frog among the rushes, sees the look of discontent on the face of the lazy catfish, and appreciates the indecisive attitude of the silly, round mouthed sucker, which doesn't seem to know whether its native element is the water or the air. So he dips a net into the side of the stream, seeking to gather a multitude by one lucky sweep—and draws up a harvest of German carp, bull frogs, water dogs, mullet and suckers. Angling is the best way to catch voters—beg pardon, fish.

MERRY ENGLAND.

We may be a heterogeneous mass of humanity mostly in the process of amalgamation; but in some respects we evince less chemical repugnance than our more homogeneous neighbors across the Atlantic.

There is England for instance. England is agitated over an issue that looks medieval and appeals only to an American's sense of humor, the proposed change in the oath of the sovereign. Heretofore the king has subscribed to an oath, specifically condemning the theological ideas of the Catholic church. Protest against this has been made by loyal Catholic subjects, headed by the leader of the British peerage. Little objection was made to the change, until the resolution, proposed by the premier was published, providing for an oath to uphold protestantism as "established by law." Then came the storm. This was assumed to refer to the established "church of England", and non-conformist protestant denominations protested that unless that clause were stricken out, the government would feel the power of their voters; the church of England representation said if it wasn't allowed to stay in, they would insist on the old oath being retained; and the Catholics, seeing the result of their years of effort being snatched away from them, assured the government, that unless the oath is changed it need not look to Catholic support. Eventually the government yielded to the combined influence of the non-conformist protestants and the Catholics, and the distasteful clauses were eliminated; but not until all the Christian brethren had displayed the truly human side of their natures to one another.

If they will have a king, with nothing to do but draw his salary, they must let him swear to something as harmless as possible. Heretofore, the king seems to have been swearing at something.

As Others See Us.

Several of the best buildings that have ever been erected in Paducah are going up now. The great railroad bridge is to be built within a short time, and business men can see large prospects. So note it. We learn from the presiding elder of the Paducah district that at this time there is not a preacher in the district that would have to move except those having served out the four-year term. This speaks well for both preachers and people.—Midland Methodist.

Hendrick for Governor.

Yielding to the importunities of thousands of friends all over the state of Kentucky, Hon. John K. Hendrick will no doubt enter the race for the Democratic nomination for governor of the state of Kentucky. Mr. Hendrick has had the matter under consideration for months and has at last about decided to yield to the demands of the people who are for various reasons refusing to accept the candidacy of the men now offering themselves as a willing sacrifice on the altar of their country.—Livingston Banner.

Heard in the Lobby

A copy of the Kalamazoo Gazette, received here today and in which is an account of the pacing race in which Dr. M. the local pacer started Tuesday, gives that game little horse credit for a better showing than the first reports indicated.

There were eleven starters, and they started in tiers of three. Dr. M. was the favorite, but he drew position in the third tier, which of course, greatly handicapped him. Waverly, who was in the first tier, won the first heat in 2:04 3/4. Dr. M. was second and must have gone the mile in 2:03. In fact, the judges' watches showed he did the mile in 2:03, and they remarked it looked like a pity to give the heat to Waverly who had gone the distance in less time. But, such is the luck of the ring. Waverly was exhausted after that heat and did not show in the following trials. Dr. M. was third in the second heat, fifth in the next and fourth in the last heat. King Cole, a fresh horse, took the second heat in slow time, 2:05 3/4, and after that Dr. M. was pocketed each time, with no chance to show.

His Paducah admirers still have great confidence in him, and say he will bear watching as he will yet show his true form.

Business men all over West Kentucky are delighted to find their forebodings of ruined crops proven utterly groundless. Indeed, the promise of bumper corn, wheat and tobacco crops are so near actual fruition that there can no longer be doubt of its fulfillment.

Mr. J. W. Vickers, the genial postmaster at Barlow, a very close student of crop conditions and a shrewd observer, says that the corn crop in Ballard county will be the biggest within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and that the quality has not been damaged appreciably by the heavy rains. Wheat and tobacco in Ballard will prove a magnificent crop.

Mr. Henry Temple, of Maxon Mills, after a personal tour of inspection over the territory from which his wheat is drawn, pronounces the wheat crop bigger and better than he has seen it for years. He estimates that he can lay his hands upon 100,000 bushels of good wheat when he gets ready for it.

Those competent to judge produce tobacco also in fine condition. Only in the very low places has the rain damaged the growing crop. And, owing to the immense acreage put out this year, the farmers could stand a total loss of 20 per cent from this cause and still have a great acreage of the weed.

MOLASSES WHISKY RULING.

Internal Revenue Commission Announces Decision.

Washington, July 29.—Under an order just issued by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cabell, for enforcement pending litigation, internal collectors are instructed not to brand as whisky any distillation from molasses produced at 160 degrees of proof and over, withdrawn from distillery premises at proof lower than 100 degrees, may be marked as diluted neutral spirits, dilute spirits, dilute cologne spirits, dilute alcohol or other true description, and if withdrawn at 100 degrees proof as proof spirits.

Molasses distillate may be used for mixing grain distillate, and if the latter sufficiently dominates, the mixture may be branded as "whisky—a blend."

YOUNG WOMAN A SUICIDE.

Daughter of Carolina State Treasurer Was Despondent.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 29.—While other members of the family were at the breakfast table Mrs. Marion B. Jennings, daughter-in-law of R. H. Jennings, state treasurer of South Carolina, committed suicide by shooting today. The body later was found lying in a pool of blood in her bedroom.

Despondency over poor health is attributed as the cause for the act.

Jersey Central Sues Lehigh.
Newark, N. J., July 29.—The Central railroad of New Jersey brought suit here against the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company for $1,900,000. The railroad alleges a stretch of line from the defendant company and contends that it has been forced to spend $1,900,000 in repairing damages done by freshets along the defendant's property.

OPPOSE LEWIS

ILLINOIS MINERS RESENT HIS INTERFERENCE.

Reject Compromise and Call Upon International President to Resign.

Springfield, Ill., July 29.—Three thousand miners of the Springfield subdistrict in mass convention adopted resolutions condemning the interference of President T. L. Lewis and the international executive board in the Illinois situation. President Lewis was grilled, while National Vice President F. J. Hayes and Frank Harrington, a member of the international board, were lauded for opposing the compromise.

Officials' Efforts Futile.
Acting as agents of the national president, International Board Members Powell and Ramage, hastening to the support of the compromise, arrived in Springfield, and later left for Virden, where they made an ineffectual attempt to persuade the engineers and pump men to resume work.

Returns have been received from about 20 locals throughout the entire state on the referendum vote. They include three locals in Springfield, two at Virden, two at Christopher, two at Benton, two at Eldorado and one each at Pawnee, Marion, Staunton, Tushorn, Middleton, Breton, Carbon Hill, Ladd and Spring Valley. It is estimated by President Walker and Secretary-Treasurer McDonald that the vote now stands almost unanimous against the adoption of the compromise.

Call on Lewis to Resign.

Viriden, Ill., July 29.—The 800 miners of the three local unions here unanimously voted not to accept the Indianapolis compromise, but to stand by the Peoria convention of last April. At a mass meeting the miners passed resolutions condemning President Lewis and asked for his resignation.

Secession is Threatened.

Taylorville, Ill., July 29.—After voting to a man to reject the settlement agreed upon at Indianapolis, the coal miners of this city, numbering over 600, adopted resolutions which ask for the resignation of International President T. L. Lewis and threaten secession from the international organization. The compromise settlement was referred to in the resolutions as the price of traitorism.

Miners Vote 107 to 14.

Bloomington, Ill., July 29.—The miners' union here at a mass meeting voted 107 against accepting the Indianapolis proposition to end the strike and 14 to accept.

SOCIALISTS DISCORD.

Traction Problem Causes Rumpus Between Members of the Party.

Milwaukee, July 29.—Socialist harmony is in danger here and trouble is brewing over traction franchises, according to a local paper. Some of the prominent members of the party have taken Alderman Victor Berger, looked upon as one of its leaders, to task for his stand on a question of new franchises for cross-town lines.

Unless John I. Beggs, president and general manager of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company, grants concessions giving the people greater privileges than those contained in the 1900 franchise, he will not get franchises from this administration, Mr. Berger is quoted as saying.

"There positively will not be any additional concessions to street car patrons than they now have," is Mr. Beggs' reply. The administration is anxious to settle the street car problem, according to several of the leading Socialists.

PARCELS POST IS OPPOSED.

Head of Jewelers' Association Urges Action Against Recent Innovation.

Detroit, July 29.—The fifth annual convention of the American Retail Jewelers' association opened here yesterday. In his annual address President J. P. Archibald of Blairsville, Pa., urged action by the association against the parcels post, fraudulent advertising and "fake" jewelry.

"This country is flooded with fake goods," he declared. "We must ask congress to compel every jeweler to stamp every piece of goods with his trade-mark and the correct karat mark."

KITCHENER TO DRILL CHINESE.
Overtures Reported to Have Been Made to British General.

London, July 29.—A report that China is inviting Field Marshal Lord Kitchener to organize and develop the Chinese army on his own terms is printed today by the Daily Mail. The determination to build up the army is now uppermost in the minds of China's rulers and any emolument that Lord Kitchener may receive, the dispatch from Pekin says, would be thought cheap for his services.

A man feels as ill at ease in a dry goods store as a woman does in a tobacco shop.

PROVIDES MINE RESCUE CARS.

Government Orders Two to Be Ready for Service in the West.

Washington, July 29.—To be ready for immediate call for assistance at mine disasters, two portable rescue stations fitted up on specially constructed railroad cars have been ordered by the federal bureau of mines for use in the west.

The first of the new cars to be built will be assigned to Billings, Mont., as its general headquarters, and will answer emergency calls anywhere in Montana and northern Wyoming. Headquarters for the second car have not been assigned as yet, but its field of operation will be the coal fields of western Colorado and eastern Utah.

These cars will be fully equipped with all modern mine rescue apparatus.

PRODUCE WIRELESS BOOKS.

Court Orders Them Shown or Jail for Officers.

New York, July 29.—Officers and directors of the United Wireless company, recently indicted for conspiracy to defraud by use of the United States mails, were ordered today to produce 18 missing books on Tuesday next or be committed to jail for contempt of court.

Judge Hand of the United States circuit court heard the officers explain they had done everything in their power to find the books, and pronounced the explanations unsatisfactory.

"The only question," he said, "is one of motive, and the person who appropriated them had some motive."

Indian Commission Named.

Washington, July 29.—The secretary of the interior has designated Charles L. Ellis special United States Indian agent, Ira C. Deavers, superintendent of Seneca Indian schools, and J. S. Murphy, of Vinita, Okla., as a commission to determine the competency of Indian allottees under the jurisdiction of Quappaw.

Nyal's Blackberry Cathartic, though, serves the same purpose splendidly. Its base is that same pure, old-fashioned blackberry wine, combined with several other antiseptics and astringents to soothe and heal the inflamed bowels. It's a simple home remedy, with a few modern improvements.

It's good for children. We recommend it. Satisfaction or your money back.

He was fined $50. Rickman was charged with selling beer and whisky to Jefferson Brantley, 17 years old. Governor Has Difficulty in Finding Suitable Washington Home.

Washington, July 29.—Governor Hughes of New York, who is in Washington with Mrs. Hughes, house-hunting, is having great difficulty in finding just what he wants as his home when he comes to take a place on the United States Supreme Court bench. Real estate agents have placed their services at his command, but as diversified as are styles of architecture here the governor cannot locate anything suitable. This is because he demands a house built around a library, not being particular about anything except the library, while Mrs. Hughes is looking for a house which has a large yard and stately trees. The combination of a large library in a stately grove does not seem to exist here.

The petition submits a schedule of the rates which would, in the judgment of the railroad commissioners, be reasonable.

SIMS TELLS HOW I. C. WAS MILKED

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF MEMPHIS CAR COMPANY.Name of Ira Rawn Introduced into Hearing Through Letter Put in by Attorney Biggs.

BILLS PADDED 40 PER CENT.

Chicago, July 29.—The Illinois Central Railroad company was dubbed the "Santa Claus" of the car repair "Christmas tree" in today's session of the graft investigation before Master in Chancery Rosewell B. Mason.

"Christmas" was every day in the year for the stockholders of the car repair companies and certain high officials of the railroad who were participants in the graft.

More than $1,500,000 of the railroad's cash is said to have gone into the pockets of the plotters in the years of 1907 and 1908. Details of the methods used are now being spread upon the court records for the first time. It was, as one of the plotters who has reformed put it today, "easier than taking candy money from a three-year kiddie."

The names of all involved in the Illinois Central's graft have not yet come out in the proceedings before Master Mason, but Ira G. Rawn, who during the "Christmas" period was vice president in charge of operation, was mentioned yesterday by Harold A. Sims, former superintendent of the Memphis Car company. Mr. Rawn furnished the car company with the schedule of lumber prices which would be allowed in figuring car repair work.

Frank Belmont Reforms.

After the first discovery of the car repair frauds, Mr. Rawn resigned and later became president of the Menon railroad. He died last week at his summer home in Winnetka from a wound alleged to be self-inflicted.

Frank W. Belmont, who as chief clerk of the Memphis Car company made out most of the padded bills by which the Illinois Central claims to have been defrauded out of at least $800,000, was the most illuminating witness called today. He told of standing orders to raise all bills "to the limit" regardless of the amount of work done on a car. He told of billing cars that were never even inside the shops and of collecting full rates for mistakes in bill making.

Belmont is a sharp-faced little fellow, who found his "conscience" when he lost his job with the Memphis works. He is now employed by the Illinois Central. He told of the frauds which he perpetrated on his present employers with a smiling face and chuckled gleefully at some of the more daring coups in graft.

Graft Was the Rule.

He testified that he worked directly under the orders of E. H. Ward, secretary of the Memphis Car company, and that his billing instructions were "to come, either fully or as near as possible, to the limit that was set on car repairs, irrespective of the repairs that actually went into the cars."

"I have taken a car on which $15 worth of work was actually done and rendered a bill for $325 or $350," he said, with something like "professional pride."

"That was getting it up to the limit," suggested Attorney A. W. Biggs, who was examining for the Illinois Central.

"It sure was, sir," answered the witness. "Instead of putting on all the traffic would bear, we put on all the car would bear."

"Was this adding to the bills the exception?" asked the railroad attorney.

The former bill clerk had a good laugh before replying: "The exception? Bless you, no, it was the rule. The only exception was when I let a car go through light so as not to attract too much attention to the big bills."

Inspectors Dismissed.

"And did they often go through light?"

"When I had, say, 40 bills, I'd put 25 of them to the limit and let two go through light," said Mr. Belmont. The inspectors paid by the Illinois Central and sent to Memphis to watch the repair work signed the bills in blank, or when they were but partially made up. If they didn't, they were transferred.

"Crabtree refused to sign some bills before I completed them; another man took his place," was the prompt answer.

The witness said that he frequently made out bills for cars that had not yet been repaired. If the company needed money he would look over cars that needed slight fixing and make out bills "to the limit."

"Who told you to do this?"

"Mr. Ward, the secretary of the Memphis Car company."

"Why did you do it?"

"Wasn't I working for the company?" Belmont demanded, with a sneer.

"I. C. People Fixed."

"Didn't you fear trouble would follow?"

"Well, I asked Mr. Ward about it once," admitted Belmont. "I asked if there wouldn't be trouble. He said: 'No; go the limit as often as you like; the I. C. people are fixed.'"

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 2207 W. Franklin St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in the country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and today is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

bill rendered the Illinois Central in the six months you were bill clerk for the Memphis Car company was padded?" asked Attorney Biggs, solemnly.

"I do so swear," testified Belmont without a quiver.

It developed that even the employees of the car company were "buncoed." The company wanted the men to believe they were being paid by the piece instead of by the hour, yet it wanted to pay by the hour, Belmont told how they worked it.

"We figured on paying them about 25 cents an hour on the average," he said. "One week we would pay them 25 cents. The next week 27 1/2 cents. That way a man never knew how much was coming to him, though we kept close check on him and he worked faster and harder."

It was only tracks straight down there?" asked Attorney Biggs with a slight.

"Nothing but the tracks," laughed the witness. "When I came to Memphis we were charging five gallons of paint to a fat car. The work really required two gallons. After Mr. Ward made a little trip to Chicago, he told me to charge ten gallons. The charge was never questioned."

Then came the tale of Mr. Belmont's "acme in graft."

"I billed a car in error one day. The amount was nearly $100 and I put down the wrong car number. I did not notice it until I had mailed the bill. I told Mr. Ward about it. He said to let the error go, but to be sure to make out a bill for the right number. Both bills were paid."

"And you quit at Christmas?" asked Mr. Biggs.

"Just before Christmas," laughed the witness.

Harold A. Sims, former superintendent of the Memphis plant, directly involved certain unnamed Illinois Central officials.

"High officials of the Illinois Central," he testified, "were interested in the car repairing plants. They entered into an agreement to divide the profits grafted from the railroad. These profits amounted to as much as 40 per cent. of the total amount paid by the railroad company."

Sims said he had received five shares of the 800 shares of stock issued by the Memphis Car company when it was organized. He told of being "in on" the organization of the Barksdale-Kellogg Lumber company, from which the car shops got lumber cheaper than the schedule of the Illinois Central. The railroad was charged full price.

"The first moon we split on the lumber deal was $1,000 each, all except Mr. Taylor, who only got $500," testified Sims. "I told him they were holding out on him, but I don't know what he did about it."

Doctored All Cars.

All was grist that came to the Memphis mill, according to Sims.

"We never let a car get away from us. We doctored all of them, even if there was nothing the matter. Then we padded the bills. I'm not sure about the percentage, but I think about 40 per cent."

Sims was asked why he left the company and all the easy graft.

"They were always changing my salary; they were cutting my expense money and they failed to pay the right dividends on stock," he declared. "I determined to get out and go into business myself. I met W. S. King, of the Illinois Central, on the street and said to him: 'They're not treating me right. I don't want to expose my friends, but I do want justice.' I think he sent J. M. Taylor to me, and Taylor assured me that I'd get all that was coming to me."

The third witness of the day was Benjamin Richard Sims, who was head bookkeeper for the Memphis Car company at $100 per month without any "graft on the side." He is now working for the Illinois Central in Chicago.

Bookkeeper Was Wise.

He saw the way things were going at the Memphis shops and not wishing to be "double crossed" kept a duplicate set of books for his own protection. These books are now in the possession of the Illinois Central and show that the net profits of the Memphis Car company in the first six months of its operation were $71,146, not including a special dividend of $15,000, which was charged as "expense" on the large expense accounts of officers of the concern. The company was capitalized at $10,000, and showed total assets $173,000 at the end of the first half year.

Henry C. Ostermann, the former Illinois Central conductor, who organized the Memphis Car company, and became its president was not at the hearing today, but will be called later, it was said. It was Ostermann's lavish expenditure of money that first attracted the attention of President Harahan, of the railroad to the probability of car repair graft.

The hearing will be continued at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

"We are suing the Memphis Car company in this case for the restitution of $300,000 graft," said Attorney Biggs, at the close of the hearing today.

"From the disclosures of witnesses we may have to sue for more before we are through."

Stableman's Unlucky Find.

An unfortunate experience has just befallen a French stableman named Brodequin. Seven years ago, when cleaning a carriage, he found a brooch with a white stone inset, which he took to be an imitation diamond. He married, and a year later became the father of a girl. The brooch was used to hold up the baby's bib, and on her sixth birthday Brodequin took the child to a jeweler to buy some earrings. The child was wearing the brooch and the jeweler, recognizing the white stone as a diamond, offered $200 for it.

Brodequin refused the offer and took the brooch to another jeweler, who handed him over to the police. Experts find the brooch to be worth $750 and Brodequin is to be prosecuted for theft because he did not take his find to a police station seven years ago.—London Evening Standard.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

Grew a Full Growth of Hair on a Bald Head

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

CHAPTER XV.
"B" George, Gene, it looks to me like you'd get the girl and the plantation, too!" exclaimed Bunce when at length the two were alone.
"What was that you called me awhile ago?" returned Kirby quizzically, but with an undercurrent of great seriousness. "Nothing but a what was it? Seems to me you said something mighty pleasant about me, you being my oldest friend and therefore complimentary. Oh, yes, nothing but a 'damned gambler.' That was it."
He seated himself at the table and, as was his wont in moments of abstraction, began to cut the cards.
Bunce diplomatically ignored the tribute. The mad escapade had terminated far better than he had expected or thought possible, and in consequence his native fund of good humor had been abundantly re-enforced.
"Take Miss Randall while you can get her," he advised. "She ain't thinking tonight of you being a gambler."
"What do you suppose she'll think of it tomorrow? Think she'll remember what I am, perhaps?"
"Maybe she won't think of it tomorrow," said Bunce hopefully.
"But what about that young Veaudry? She'd never have to think of anything he's done—or was," pursued Kirby. "Pretty square sort of a fellow, Larkin. Looks to me like I owe him a clear field to himself."
"I ain't denyin' but what he acted a gentleman to you, Gene. But now's the time you got to think of yourself."
"Looks to me you're considerable of a turncoat," smiled Kirby, picking up a card. "What were you saying to me about this? There's my wife. I married her for better or for worse—too long ago for a woman to come between us now. And what else was that you said? Oh, yes—'Take one good look at yourself, Gene Kirby; then take another at her.'"
Bunce snuffed feebly. "I've kind of changed my mind since I said that," he mumbled. "Besides," consulting his watch, "it was a long time ago. It was last night now."
Silence came, and with it the white dawn, and as still the men sat, one phrase. "Take one good look at yourself, Gene Kirby. I might never have thought of that—I have been so busy looking at her."

As he sat there face to face with the future, striving to learn renunciation without embitterment, the General, now dressed in nightclothes, tiptoed softly into the room.
"They sent me to bed again," he whispered, triumphant at his evasion, while he cuddled against the man's extended arm. "I want to know the end of that story. Tell me."
Kirby strove to assume his wonted gaiety of manner. How long ago it seemed, since in the closed carriage he had prompted that light hearted laughter!

"So you made another hairbreadth escape, General," he commented lightly. "And you want to hear the end of the story—about the bad prince who was half good? I—I don't know if I can tell you the end."
"Why? Hasn't the end happened yet?"
"Yes; it's come."
"But it ended all right, didn't it?" persisted the General, with all youth's confident optimism.
"Yes," said the man; "it ended all right."
"But I want to know if he's still a mixed prince—a mixed good and bad prince?"

Kirby pressed a weary hand over his throbbing forehead. "I guess he's pretty much mixed," he confessed, still smiling bravely.
The child pondered over this statement until at length he began to nod. "Did—did he go away?" he murmured drowsily, inquisitiveness battling no longer against outraged nature.
"Yes—he went away," whispered the man, his arm tightening about the small form. "You're sleepy, General."
"I'm not," protested the child, with great earnestness, opening wide his eyes only to promptly close them after an ineffectual struggle. "I want to know—the end." He gave a vexed, protesting sigh; then his breathing grew deep and regular.

"Your sister will tell you the end in the morning," said the man.
Rising, he gently laid the now sleeping child on the sofa and with clumsy tenderness covered him with a rug. For a long time Kirby stood looking down upon the faithful little General, who of them all had from the first given him full measure of unswerving loyalty and devotion without question and without price, and this despite the influence of family pressure, the venom of lying tongues or the specious evidence of circumstance. He knew only that he loved; that was faith and trust sufficient. As yet he was only a very small juvenile member in life's boys' brigade, but still he had his own dim notions of standing true to the colors.

When at length Kirby turned away it was to find himself face to face with Adele. How long she had been standing there he did not know. The fugitive sunbeam had long since vanished, as if heartily ashamed of taking precedence over its majestic progenitor, and the room was now suffused by a dull, rosy glow. For a space girl and man eyed each other in silence, both waiting for the other to speak. Finally she whispered:

"Am I to tell him the end of the story?" nodding to the sleeping General. "But he'll want you to."
"I'm afraid it won't be fixed so that I can, Miss Randall. You see, I was only waiting to say goodby to you."
"He'll be disappointed," she ventured, with a pitiful attempt at composure. "And—you are only waiting to say goodby?"
He nodded, smiling wanly.

"You remember that story I told you of the rosebush and the playing cards?"
"Are you and I like that?"
"Just like that," he said.
"But some time"—She broke off, making a hopeless, pleading gesture.
"Tell him when he awakes," said Kirby, taking a great breath and holding high his head, "the end is that for one great day, from sunrise to sunrise, the mixed prince was with somebody so good that he went away to try to make himself all over. And if he can"—He faltered and stopped; then, taking courage from her eyes, began again. "And if he can—"
"And if he can," she prompted, a great wave of color surging to cheek and neck. "And if I should wait for that—that wouldn't be the end?"
"No. That would be—"
"It would be"—she whispered, holding him with her eyes.
"Just the beginning, after all."

STATE TROOPS FOR ESTRADA

ALABAMA OFFICER WILL COMMAND THE BATTALION.

Tennessee Boys Are Among Those Said to Have Been Secretly Enlisted.

ORGANIZED AT CHICKAMAUGA

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 29.—It is thought by federal authorities that a filibustering expedition is being organized among state troops at Chickamauga Park to go to Central America to take part in the Nicaraguan revolution. They will join the forces of Gen. Estrada, it is said.

Since the beginning of the maneuvers, there have been persistent rumors that an expedition for Central America was to be organized among the state troops here. Indications point to the fact that all preparations have been completed, so far as securing the men is concerned. The organization, it is said, will be known as the American Foreign Legion, and will be composed of some 500 men from Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi. The United States physical examination will be adhered to. The ranking officer of the outfit will have the rank of brigadier general. He will come from the Alabama brigade. Great secrecy is being maintained by those said to be concerned in the movement.

It is known that an officer of the Estrada forces came to Chickamauga some days ago and held a conference with several state officers regarding the expedition. The officers and men will receive the pay of their rank, with a 20 per cent increase, a few concessions thrown in as a side issue. They will be paid in gold.

Just how they will embark is not known. But rumor has it that they will be sent to their state commands, and later be mobilized at some point on the southern coast, presumably a vessel will land at some of the deep water harbors of the Mississippi coast and take on the expedition. They will be equipped with Krag-Jorgensen rifles, secured from an arms supply house, and a platoon of machine guns. These, it is said, have already been shipped to Central America.

It is not thought that the United States authorities have taken official notice of the matter, but they no doubt, will when their attention is called to it by the Nicaraguan authorities.

It is thought the Estrada forces decided upon securing the American battalion of men from the Southern states on account of the climatic conditions, and that they are receiving field training at Chickamauga that will stand them in need in the fighting characteristic of Central American revolutions.

Frankfort, Ky., July 29.—Governor Willson appointed Dr. James C. Mitchell, of Louisville, a member of the state board of health. Dr. Mitchell is an eclectic physician and highly recommended to the governor. The governor also appointed Peter Caldwell, formerly head of the Industrial School of Reform, as a delegate from Kentucky to the International Child-Saving congress, which meets in Boston in September.

John T. Shelby, of Lexington, was reappointed the Republican member of the state board of election commissioners. He was one of three names recommended to the governor by the Republican state committee. C. R. McDowell, the Democratic member, was appointed several days ago. Governor Willson said Mr. Shelby had made a fine record and that no complaints had been made of him or his work on the board.

Governor Willson introduced another novelty when he granted a conditional restoration of citizenship to William Parsley, who served a term in the penitentiary some years ago on a charge of robbery. The governor says he is to have his citizenship restored for so long as he may be a good citizen, but that on any violation of the conditions of the pardon the restoration is to be void. He wants to keep a string on the man, who is engaged in religious work and who has made good.

Gwendolyn—Do you know that Mr. Softhead actually asked me last night whether I could not learn to love him?

Viola—Why shouldn't he? One is never too old to learn.—Judge.

Numerous applications for concessions at the west end fair grounds are being received by Secretary Rodney Davis, of the Paducah Fair association from merchants of Paducah. Much interest in the coming fall fair has been aroused among the business men, and from the expressions made and applications received the merchants will add much to the fair's success. They will make demonstrations of their goods in addition to the farmers of the county.

The ladies of the city also are taking much interest in the fair and are busy preparing their handwork for the different exhibits which will be featured for the women especially on the second day of the fair. Many have already signified their intentions to enroll in the work.

Applications for programs recently issued by the association have been enormous and the large stack number 15,000 is gradually diminishing. If the demand continues as it has been the association may be compelled to issue a second edition. Prospects for a successful fair are brightening every day and this year's exhibitions will no doubt eclipse all previous ones.

The U. S. dredge E. A. Woodruff arrived from Cincinnati this morning on a snag pulling expedition along the lower Ohio river, in command of Captain W. H. Christian.

She departed for Cairo, Ill., and will work back up towards Evansville. Last night the Woodruff pulled three sunken coal barges out of the Ohio at the Sisters bar above here. They were sunken when the towboat John A. Wood grounded several weeks ago, on her way down with a big tow of coal. Captain Christian said the river was in good condition and few snags had been pulled. The Woodruff confines herself to the Ohio river along which many improvements are to be made soon, giving a nine-foot stage from Cairo to Pittsburgh by building locks and dams.

CRIS SWINDLE

ON FAILING TO RECOGNIZE HER SHE PROMPTLY SWOONS.

Wife Seeks Transfer of $40,000 in Stock Claimed as Part of Marriage Contract.

Cincinnati, July 29.—Percy Proctor, member of the wealthy Cincinnati family, appeared suddenly in court here today and faced his wife, the former Baroness Nadine von Kleffuss, for the first time in many months. Upon his failure to recognize her, his wife promptly swooned.

Proctor instituted the case in which he testified today to stop the transfer of $40,000 worth of stock which his wife claims was given her in furtherance of a marriage contract made in Berlin before the American consul.

By this agreement, which Proctor acknowledged, he was to settle upon her 200,000 francs, the marriage to take place when she succeeded in divorcing the Baron von Kleffuss. Shortly thereafter, however, the baron died.

Proctor, on taking the stand in his own behalf, acknowledged the genuineness of the contract and said that he gave a note for $10,000 in fulfillment. Her family asked for "something tangible," he said, so he put down the stock "as collateral" and the marriage took place in London, October 14, 1909.

"It was understood that title to the stock was to remain in my name and that my wife was only to have the income from it," he testified.

Proctor, under oath, then charged the former baroness and Josie Wyckoff, a solicitor of London, with being parties to a conspiracy to obtain not only the stock in question, but also all the money possible to be obtained from him.

He asserted that his wife turned the stock over to De Wyckoff as soon as it reached her hands, that she concealed this from him and that he learned of it only when they reached her chateau at Mentone, France. He then wrote to his Cincinnati counsel and suit was filed to prevent the transfer of the stock on books of the company.

Court adjourned with Proctor still on the stand.

MONITOR LOG BOOK

OWNER OF TREASURE PROVIDES FOR ITS PRESERVATION.

Unique Entries Cover Fight With the Merrimac—Commander Worden Injured.

Washington, July 29.—The original log-book of the famous Monitor covering the period of her engagement with the Confederate ironclad Merrimac in Hampton Roads on March 9, 1862, was given to the navy department to be preserved among the historic records. The restoration of the log to the department was due to Capt. Louis Stodder, of the United States revenue cutter service, now living in Brooklyn, N. Y., and an officer on the Monitor during her entire service. For years he has treasured the log among his most valuable possessions, but as old age advanced he desired to see it placed where its preservation might be assured. Hence it was that he forwarded it to the library of the navy department.

The entries cover dates from February 26 to September 11, 1862, and tell of the little "cheese box on a raft" foundering off Cape Hatteras December 31, 1862, when Stodder was acting master; of her engagements with the Confederate batteries at Sewell's Point, Hampton Roads and at Fort Darling in James river. But by far the most interesting concern the fight with the Merrimac. Among the entries on Sunday, March 9, 1862, are the following:

"At 8 p. m. Fine weather and calm. At sunrise saw three steamers lying under Sewell's Point. Made one out to be the rebel steamer Merrimac. At 7:20 got under weigh and stood toward her and piped all hands to quarters."

"(Signed) J. WEBER."
"From 8 to meridian. Fine, clear weather. The rebel steamers advancing and opened fire on the Minnesota. 8:20 opened fire on the Merrimac, from that time until 12, constantly engaged with the Merrimac."

"(Signed) LOUIS STODDER."
"From meridian to 4 p. m. Clear weather. At 12:30 rifle shell struck the pilot house, severely injuring Commander Worden. 1 p. m. The Merrimac hauled off in a disabled condition. Stood toward the Minnesota and received on board Assistant Secretary Fox of the navy. 2 p. m. Captain Worden left for Fort Monroe in charge of Surgeon Logue."

"(Signed.)"

"GEO. FREDERICKSON."
Those who inspected the log drew attention to the first entry, which should have been for the forenoon instead of the afternoon.

HEINZE IS THREATENED.

Court May Allow Bonds of Ohio Copper to Be Sold.

Boston, July 29.—When the suits of F. Augustus Heinze, of New York, and others against A. D. F. Adams, a Boston broker, and other bankers and brokers of this city, over the possession of bonds of the Ohio Copper company before Justice Henry S. Braley in the Massachusetts supreme court, the justice declared that unless Heinze appeared by September 1 next the court may modify the injunction against the defendants and permit them to sell the bonds in question.

The principal defendants are bankers and brokers with whom Adams deposited the bonds as collateral for loans and who, because of the unsettled condition of the money market, fear that if they cannot dispose of the bonds soon they may suffer a heavy loss.

Judge Braley said that if he became convinced that Mr. Heinze was disregarding the order of the court he would order the injunction dissolved.

British Gambling.

The Britisher's favorite gambling is insurance gambling. He will take out a policy against anything from the death of a king to the loss of a horse race by a thoroughbred. Marine insurance gambling by those who have no direct interest in the safety of a ship or its cargo grew into such abuses that parliament has been compelled to pass a drastic act to prevent such gambling on marine accidents and losses by those not otherwise concerned.—New York Press.
